Confidentiality Agreement

Participant agrees that the names, identifying information, and personal material of other participants are confidential. Any participant may grant another participant permission to quote them. Participant agrees not to use electronic recording devices or use any type of camera (including cell phone cameras) in the program. Personal information about another that is revealed during exercises is private. Participants agree not to share that information outside of the exercise group or time without permission.

SHEN agrees that the names, identifying information and personal material of the participants shall be held confidential by the trainers. Any participant may grant a trainer permission to quote them.

If the program is taped on video or audio by SHEN, this must be stated clearly to the group prior to taping, and any concerns addressed. SHEN will be required to obtain a written release of confidentiality from each participant whose voice or image appears on media prior to release or sale of the recording.
